MEDICINAL

The well known poem, "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight," in which a young woman by hanging to the curfew bell saves the life of her lover, is a beautiful illustration of the curfew, is only one of a thousand striking instances of how a woman will dare everything for love.

Women are ready to make great sacrifices, and they are to take the common place, everyday precautions which insure their great happiness. Most women are careless about their health. They forget that physical weakness and disease will wreck the chances in life and shut them out completely from happy womanhood and widowhood.

Weak, bilious women are robbed of their natural attractiveness and capacity. They lose healthy color and energy and ambition. The blood becomes poor and thin and laden with disease germs. The true antidote for this condition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly upon the digestive powers and the liver, creating pure, red, healthy blood free from bilious impurities; it renovates every organ and tissue of the body, building up hard, elastic flesh and muscular strength and imparting nerve power and permanent vitality, which melt extracts do not give.

Mrs. Ella Howell, of Derby, Perry Co., Ind., writes: "In the year of 1894 I was taken with stomach trouble—nervous dyspepsia. There was a coldness in my stomach, and a weight which seemed like a rock. Everything that I ate gave me great pain; I had a burning down sensation; was swelled across my stomach; had a ridge around my right side, and in a short time I was bedridden. I was treated by three of our best physicians but got no relief. I was so weak I could not walk across the room without assistance. Then Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me and I got it, and commenced the use of it. I began to improve very fast after the use of a few bottles. It makes an opening in the disease was leading into pulmonary consumption, and gave me up to die. I thank God that my cure is permanent."

GEN. FITZ. LEE'S CORPS.

The Jacksonville Times-Union gives the following description of the parade of the Seventh Army Corps, General Fitzhugh Lee commanding, at that place Tuesday afternoon.

Even regiments were in line, led by gallant Fitzhugh Lee, and no wonder that the people were enthused. It was a sight never before seen in Jacksonville in the history of the present generation, and not likely to be again. Boys from the North and South marched almost side by side and shoulder to shoulder, but they represented no section—simply one great nation. The boys from North Carolina and New Jersey kept time to the music played by those from Illinois; those from Virginia marched along with their brothers from Iowa and Wisconsin; Mississippians joined with the Rough Riders from Wyoming and other far Western States. The bands played "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Dixie," and shouts rose from thousands of throats. As regiment after regiment marched by, the people clapped and cheered. It would be difficult to say which one received the most hearty greeting. All were heartily applauded. The Mississippians, who made their first appearance in the city, and who had been left out of the original programme because they were not equipped, were cheered all along. The regiment asked to be allowed to appear, and the people remembered that. They were still without guns, but they marched just the same.

Colonel Terry's Rough Riders were not forgotten in the applause. They also made their first appearance in the city, and it is safe to say that nearly every one was surprised at the fine horses that they rode. It would be difficult to find one thousand or more men mounted on more handsome or spirited animals anywhere in the world. And they made a fine sight as they frequently dashed forward at full gallop. A fine, hardy set of fellows the Rough Riders appear to be.

And then, last but not least in the procession, came the little pack mules, with big bundles strapped to their backs. They trotted along, following the lead of the "bell mares," and seemed to be wonderfully intelligent little fellows. It was a sight worth going many miles to see.

General Lee received a continuous ovation from the time that he joined the troops and took the lead, at Main and State streets, till he reached Ocean and Duval, where the review was held. Riding his magnificent iron-gray horse, he was the cynosure for all eyes, and cheers and applause greeted him as he came into sight. That General Lee has been given a warm place in the hearts of the people of Jacksonville there can be no doubt.

GARRISON FOR HONOLULU.—By order of the War Department the Hawaiian Islands, recently annexed to the United States, have been included in the military department of California. For several days the army administration has been making arrangements to send a garrison force of soldiers to Honolulu to be present at the hoisting of the American flag over the islands and to be maintained there as a regular military establishment for the present.

The government also appreciates the prudence of having a strong military force in Honolulu at the time when the change in government takes place.

Senators Culom and Morgan and Representative Hitt, the commissioners to visit the Hawaiian Islands, will agree upon and report to Congress what legislation is necessary for the islands under annexation. They held a meeting yesterday to arrange for their trip. It was decided to leave San Francisco as near the first of August as possible.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D., "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00 guaranteed or price refunded.

Sick headache, biliousness, constipation and all liver and stomach troubles can be quickly cured by using those famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They are pleasant to take and never gripe. Charles G. Lennan.
